Subject: Training Invitation: Working with the Right to Information Act 2009

Good afternoon,

You are invited to attend our Working with the Right to Information Act 2009 training session to be held Tuesday 17 September 2024, from 10am to 12pm.

Focusing on essential parts of the Right to Information Act and key practice tips, it is ideal for staff of public authorities who work with the RTI Act.

The session will cover:

- The legislative framework for making decisions under the RTI Act including:
 - the object of the Act;
 - types of disclosure;
 - timeframes;
 - refusal reasons;
 - exemptions;
 - the public interest test;
 - internal reviews;
 - external reviews;
- Key observations about how to achieve best practice;
- Avoiding common pitfalls regarding requests for disclosure of information; and
- Answering questions from the audience.

Our presenters will be Richard Connock, Tasmanian Ombudsman and Leah Dorgelo, Principal Officer – Right to Information.

The training will take place in the Large Meeting Room on Level 7, NAB House, 86 Collins St, Hobart.

In person attendance is capped at 25 persons. Online delivery will be via Microsoft Teams and numbers are unlimited.

Please share this invite with other employees of public authorities if you think they may be interested in attending.

RSVP:

To register your in person or online attendance please email rti@ombudsman.tas.gov.au. Registrations will close at 1pm, Monday 16 September 2024.

Please do not hesitate to contact the Ombudsman Tasmania RTI team with any questions regarding the training.

Thank you,
